

Dear Rinalda,

I 'm attempting to put together some sort of a resume. The difficulty being that I am in the middle of a career change, however I don't know exactly where that change is leading me.

Presently, I am teaching part-time unwed pregnant teens and am the consultant on a cable television show Sixteen (2007) that is in post-production. At the time my headshot was taken I was married with two young children and following my dream to be an actor. I did some dinner theatre....my greatest role coming to me as Kathy in the play Vanities written by Jack Heifner. With my B.A. in Physical Education and some training in TV Commercials and theatre movement I went on to open a coffee business with my husband.

Besides serving as office manager and staff trainer, I served up a great cup of cappuccino. That and now three children kept me pretty busy during the 1980's. In the mid-90's I left the coffee business because of a divorce and went back to school to get my California teaching credential. The last seven years I have taught on both the East and West Coasts, students ranging from all grades and backgrounds, including: second language learners, middle school homeless students and teens 12-17 at a Juvenile Hall facility in California. Some day I would like to tell their stories.
